Coo! Coo! Coo! So like the voice of lovers, 'Twas passing sweet to hear, The birds within the covers. In the spring-time of the year. Coo! Coo! Coo! Coo!

Thus the song's returned again-Coo! Coo! Coo! Through the shady glen: But there I wandered lene and sad, While every bird around was glad. Coo! Coo! Coo! Thus so fondly murmured they, Coo! Coo! Coo! While my love was far away. And yet the song to lovers, Though sad, is sweet to hear, From birds within the covers, In the spring-time of the year.

> A Visit to Etaly; BY MRS. TROLLOPE.

BACKWARDNESS OF ITALIAN MECHANICS. THE MARBLE QUARRIES .- After looking at the quarries with such recollections as may be easily imagined, and raised thereby my estimate of the power of man to pretty nearly the highest pitch, I turned to examine the mode in which the blocks of marble were conveyed down the descent which leads to the town of Carrara. The utter and entire ignorance of every species of mechanical aid with which this process was effected appeared almost incredible, though there it was going on be fore our eyes. In the first place, the approach to the quarry is among and over masses of marblerock, which the labor of a score of able bodied men for a week or two would suffice to remove for ever and ever, leaving free the access to this tesoro acro till the slow chisel had removed the mighty

The way thus cleared, an iron rail, of consider ably less than a mile in length, would enable cars, bearing the precious blocks, to be conveyed to the door of the sawing mill without difficulty or risk of any kind. Instead of this, however, this finest quarry of the world has its produce raitled down the descent in a manner which perpetually causes the blocks to be broken,-for, instead of its being an affair thus simple, it is now one of such danger and difficulty that it is really terrible to behold .-The carriage upon which the blocks are placed is of very massive timber, rudely and very unartistically put together ;-to this six oxen are attached, but the number is reduced to two when the vehicle, as frequently happens, reaches some point of its progress at which it is rather permitted to drop down than to be drawn. At these times, the exertions of the men who have charge of the convol are really frightful, and frequently attended with dreadful accidents. In order to prevent, or impedas much as may be, the violent fall of the vehicle from one mass of rock to another, they spring, as the most imminent risk to life and limb, from one part of the rude machine to another, in order either to produce a balance favorable to the manœuvre. er else to coerce the movements of the oxen, who are often brought into such positions as to rende any ordinary mode of driving them impracticable The barbarous ignorance with which all this brute force is required, and applied, has something in it truly lamentable, and very directly suggests v doubt whether the intact purity with which his Highness of Modena labors to preserve his territory from all intercourse with other races of human beings, is calculated to produce benefit to those who have the honor of calling him lord? I appears utterly impossible that this Robinson Crusoe-like style of engineering could be persevered in were less pains taken to keep intruding eyes and blabbing tongues from the district where it is carried on. To those who are aware how low the rate of wages is in that part of the world, it may convey some idea of the toil and difficulty of this work, to be told that the men so employed work but for four hours in the day, and the price they receive for this is the value of five francs. The appearance of the poor fellows when thus employed is really terrific. The whole of the upper part of the bodies is without clothing, the skin the color of bronze, and every muscle and every feature so distorted by the vehemence of the action they are using as to make it exceedingly painful to watch them. ROMAN AMPHITHEATRES. VERONA.—I almost lament having seen the stu-pendous Roman Amphitheatre here. " I am half angry with myself, I think, for being so greatly struck with the grandeur of this unholy edifice I am less 'an antique Roman' than most people, -having very little respect for their greatness, which neither in its origin nor end appears to me of the best quality. But I felt it impossible, as I stood on this boldly conceived theatre, to deny that their brutal joys must have had as much sublimity thrown around them as genius and power could bestow. Why is it that, with all the accumulated science of so many ages to help us, we can no longer rear such works as this ?-so beautiful in its grand simplicity, and at the same time so completely fulfilling the purpose for which it was planned, that the grace and the dignity seem to have grown out of it as if by accident. Fitness of form seems to constitute beauty in the same manner that ease of movement constitutes grace. In both cases, a sort of instinctive common sense tells us that it is right—the mind is satisfied, and the spirit pleased. It is a pity that what seems so simple, while acknowledged to be so admirable shoud ever be departed from. The object being to accommodate thirty thousand persons in the best manner possible, for the purpose of their all having a perfectly commodious view of what was doing in the arena, it is impossible to imagine any other mode or manner in which it could be done so well. So gracious is the form, so majestic the proportions of these bare rough elements of a building, that all the glories of Palladio, which I had so lately been gazing at with delight, seemed little better than so much Dresdan china, by comparison with them.

I looked, and looked, till I began to quarrel with all human improvement, - and the nineteenth century was rapidly descending to a discount in m. imagination when I happened to fix my eyes upon sundry openings, which were evidently not intended either for the entrances or the vomitaries of the thirty thousand spectators. 'What were those apertures for?' said I. 'Those were for letting in the wild beasts upon the gladiators,' was the reply. It is wonderful how suddenly the ideas suggested by this answer dis-enchanted me.

ITALIAN LAZINESS NEAR GENOA .- * Besides this, I had another study which detained me at this same window. Immediately under it a group of nine boys, all clothed in Murillo tinted rags, and varying in age from about 12 to 5, had congregated themselves upon a heap of sand and peb-bles, and during the space of two hours that I remained either at or near the window they never changed their position,-all of them lying upon their stomachs or their sides, basking in the sun, with their heads towards one common centre. I never witnessed a spectacle of such utterly listless idleness. Their only amusement was the picking out little pebbles and flinging them at one another, but so tranquilly, that no quarrelling or noisy effect of any kind was the result. Most certainly

' In their warm cheeks the sultry season glow'd,' but could this alone cause the perfect stillness of Fixed Stars-Magnetic Needle-Latitude and Longitude-a group, all of whom were of a sex and age that Bleaching, Tanning-Popular Fallacies-Light-Falling a group, all of whom were of a sex and ago that

Other causes must, I think, have something to do with it .-They one and all looked in perfect health, and I T. L. them to be content with this half dead condition. Poor little fellows! Several of them were superbly handsome, with curly locks and eyes as black as sloes. I would have given something to have seen them all busily at school.

per hundred. * * * At Sestri we again saw, on different parts of the beach, little heaps of six or eight children at a time, all old enough to be profitably employed either in learning or in labor, but all lying about in the sun, in more complete inaction and idleness than I ever watched elsewhere, except pethaps in the Negro-breeding farms of Virginia, where the children preparing for the Southern market are permitted to fatten in very perfect idleness.

VERMONT ON SLAVERY .- The following Resolutions on Slavery were passed unanimously by the late Legislature of Vermont, which was composed in nearly equal numbers of each Political party RESOLVED, by the Senate and House of Representalines:

1. That as the Representatives of the People of the State of Vermont, we do protest against the admission into the Union, of any State whose constitution tolerates domestic slavery, or the annexation of Texes, or any other Territory, in which elavery exists. 2. That we believe that Congress have the power, by the Constitution of the United States, to abolish slavery and the slave-trade in the District of Columbia, and in the territories of the United States; and that if Congress refuse to abolish slavery in the District of Columbia, that the seat of the general government ought to be removed om that District, to a place where slavery and the slave-trade do not exist.

3. That we believe Congress has constitutional power to prohibit the slave trade between the several States in this Union, and to make such laws as shall effectually prevent this trade, and ought to exercise this power.

4. That the Constitution of the United States ght to be amended, so as to prevent the existence and maintenance of slavery in the United States in any form or manner.

5. That our Senators in Congress be instructed d our Representatives be requested, to present e foregoing resolutions to their respective Houses Congress, and to use their influence to carry out e principles thereof.

6. That the Government of this State be renested to transmit a copy of the foregoing resotions to each of our Senators and Representaes in Congress.

CASH PRICES AND THE TARIFF. - The Pittsburg Advocate says:-" We were shown calicos from to 8 cents per yard, which sold last season at 7 122; and a great variety from 10 to 121 that to really beautiful, and were considered cheap at year at 15 to 20 cents. Our American Manfacturers have, by their improved styles and very w prices, (assisted by the Tariff,) driven the inglish prints almost entirely out of the market. eautiful scarlet flannels are sold at 23 to 33 cents; kings, indigo blue, 8 to 20 cents; good pilot oths 75 cents, and very superior ones at $1.75. short, every description of goods wanted by the untry merchants can now be bought in Pittsorg on better terms than at any other city west the mountains."

The Louisville Journal makes the same remark. rices were never so low, although the Tariff, it as alleged, was to carry them up beyond all preedent. The increase of the duty on coal and on, as on other staples, has had the effect to diinish prices. The crusade against the Tariff, ough most usjust, has had its political effect.

NEW-YORK TRIBUNE DAILY AND WEEKLY.

The Publishers of The New-York Daily Tribune respectly announce to their readers and the public that they ve made arrangements for the opening winter as follows: AT WASHINGTON-1. A careful report of the daily proedings of Congress will be made up expressly for The Pribune, so as to appear in its columns at the earliest moent. This department will be in the hands of the same rentleman who so ably and satisfactority filled it through - last two Sessions.

eminent standing in the Political circles of the Metropo will act as our Confidential Correspondent, furnishing arly advices of all Political movements in contemplation, whether with reference to the Legislative action of Congress, the corrupt vagaries of Tylerism, or to the warning rigues and manœuvres of the partisans of the rival Locooco aspirants to the Presidency.

AT NEW-YORK-1. In addition to our usual departments, experienced and most capable Assistant Editor will atand all the Lectures of the Winter which shall possess a eneral interest, to report them either in full or in substance, their character and worth shall seem to require. In this partment, The Tribune achieved an acknowledged suemacy last winter: It is our purpose to confirm it this Another Assistant gives undivided attention to the arkets of our own and other Cities, taking accounts of Article and Sales of Produce and Merchandize, with all operations tions in Goods, Stocks, Currency, Exchanges, &c. &c., hich shall be worthy of record. In this department we deavor to be more precise than any other paper.

3. Our Reviews and Literary Intelligence we design to ender fuller and earlier than the se of most journals. AT BOSTON-We have an excellent Correspondent, who all transmit us from week to week brief summaries of the allest and most striking Lectures, Discourses, &c. &c., with accounts of what is doing in every department of Moral and Intellectual effort. AT ALBANY .- We have completed arrangements for arly and graphic advices of the manner in which Loco-Focoism shall dispense its newly acquired 'Spoils,' and carry out to completion its Stop-and-Tax policy.

AT HOME AND EVERYWHERE—though we hope for a season to have less occasion thanhitherto for devoting ne columns to Political controversy-The Tribunewill conare the ardent, unswerving, undannted, determined advoale of Whic Principles and Measures, and of the election HENRY CLAY as President in 1844. Recent events, howver discouraging in the view of the short-sighted, have but rengthened our confidence in the speedy triumph of those Principles, and our conviction that HENRY CLAY and he by can rally around him the now scattered hosts of the ctors of 1849, and lead them on to a new triumph, as sigi, as giorious, but more enduring and beneficent.

THE TRIBUNE will be published Daily on a large royal heet at Five Dollars per annum to Mail Subscribers, intead of Four as hitherto. We have found by experience but the latter sum is not a living price for 312 newspapers, shick must be mailed (many of them singly) as well as inted between midnight and day break.-The increase of or Mail subscriptions has been very rapid, and the present amber is quite large, but not at all to our pecuniary adntage. All subscriptions received before the 1st of Deember, however, as well as all hitherto received, will be se ved for the full term of advance payment at $4 per anum. (In this City the price will be 9 cents per week, and r stugle copies two cents each, as hitherto.) The WEEKLY TRISUNE-just twice the size of the Daily-contains eight royal pages, or forty-eight double-folio imms of cl-sely printed matter, comprising all that appears the Daily which is not of local or ephemeral interest with a larger amount of Literary matter-Tales, Poems, Reviews, Descriptive Letters, &c .- than we can make room for in the Daily. All the Reports of Lectures, abstracts of Congressional and Legislative Proceedings, Editorials, Foreign News, &c. &c. that appear in the Daily will be regularly transferred to the Weekly, which is made up every Thursday morning and forwarded by the afternoon Mails of that day, so as to reach most of its subscribers by or before Saturday night. The Weekly Tribune is afforded for $2 per annum, six opies for $10, ten copies for $15, and any larger number at the rate of $1 50 each per annum. Every practicable enoaragement will be given to those who will aid in extendour circulation, but all our dealings are conducted strictly on the Cash principle, and every paper is stopped as oon as the advance payment has run out. Post-Masters and others enclosing $10 free of pustage to us shall receive two Dailies and one Weeksy Tribune for one year. On the above terms, subscriptions are respectfully solicited by GREELEY & MCELRATH, 160 Nassau-st.,

DARR'S PILLS .- From Mr. Noble,

Bookseller, Boston: "Boston, August 15, 1842. To the Proprietors of Parr's Life Pills: "To the Proprietors of Parr's Life Pills: Gentlemen-Having heard of the extraordinary and unexpected cure of my friend Mr. Somerville, by the use of Parr's Life Pills, I applied to him for the particulars of his case, which he has kindly furnished. To his very lucid and striking state-ments (which I encl se) I can add nothing: they speak for themselves. But I may observe, that on his leaving Lin-colnshire it was the decided impression of all his frieods, both in Boston and Stamford, where he is well known, that his recovery was entirely hopeless—in fact that he was just going home to die, his appearance every way indicating an advanced stage of consumption.

going nome to die, his appearance cety an advanced stage of consumption.

"Please to send me 100 dozen boxes of Parr's Pills, small, and 20 dozen large, as my stock is again low. I perceive my sale since last August has been 18,308 boxes!

"Gentlemen, yours, faithfully. John Noble, "Wholesale and retail Agent, Boston."

From Mr. Peter Somerville, of Helensburgh, near Edinburgh, addressed to Mr. John Noble, Bookseller, Boston, Lincolnshire:

"Spring Bank Cottage, Helensburgh, Aug. 18, 1842.
"My Dear Mr. Noble: Your kind letter I duly received, and would have answered it immediately, but for a circumstant of the control of th stance I have delayed until new. I can assure you gives me more pleasure than to bear witness to all and sun-dry, the real, and I am now satisfied, the lasting good I have received from the use of rarr's Life Pills. Some of cylfriends observing the wonderful effects produced on m through them, urged me strongly to make my case known to encourage others afflicted with coughs, &c., to give them a trial; and I was glad to receive from you the same request, as you will be able to manage it for me. I am rather at a loss lest I should fail in giving full justice to the efficiency of these Pills over all the medicines I have tried for my compalant, and you know I have now had nearly two ciency of these Pills over all the medicines I have free for my compliant, and you know I have now had nearly two years' trial of medical prescriptions for my cough and liability to catch colds, without being one whit better, but I believe worse; and the last physician I consulted laughed at my ignorance when I asked him if there was nothing in at my ignorance when I asked him if there was nothing in physic that would operate as a preventive against taking cold. He shook his head and said 'No, no; there is no such medicine.' Now, if he had been acquainted with Parr's Life Pills, he would have said, 'Yes, yes; there is such a thing;' and instead of recommending snake-root and Iceland moss, he would have recommended them as an effectual medicine for cough, pluerisy and spitting of blood, for that was the three-fold form of my complaint. The cough had become so troublesome that my sleep was broken by continued fits of coughing; my liability to cold and isflammation was so great that a change in the weather. and isflammation was so great that a change in the weather, or a walk, or any little exertion, would lay me up, and the or a waik, or any little exertion, would lay me up, and the usual routine of fasting, purging and blistering had to be resorted to. This I has four times in the course of two months, and then speaking aloud or reading aloud made me a great deal worse, and my strength was so tar gone that any little exercise in a little and so that or working was considered. a great deal worse, and my storage was quite suffi-nny little exertion in walking or working was quite suffi-cient for me. Now look at the change! Before I had taken two small boxes of the Pills, my strength was so far recov-ered that I commenced to work ten hours a day, and scarcely ever felt wearied, and have done so for these five weeks past; and then as to there being a preventive against cold, I may just mention that the place I went to work in was a school-house, just building; the roof was on it, but as yet there were none of the windows in it, and the draught was very great, more especially as I had never before wrought under such circumstances; yet I wrought, and am still working there without having taken c-ld that way. "When I began to take Parr's Pills, I gave up at the same time the use or tea and coffee, which I believe helped me greatly in getting rid of my complaint. I am fully satisfied the use of tea, especially, is a very bad thing for a cough, as I always found my cough much worse after taking tea. The great good that I have derived from Parr's Pills may

The great good that I have derived from I art 8 has half be summed up in a few words:

"First, they increased my strength; all other medicines had a weakening effect upon me but them. I take three, four, and semetimes five pills every twenty-four hours, and instead of being weakened by them, they rather in their operation revive the animal spirits and impart lasting strength to the body.

"Secondly, they go direct to the cough. I had not taken siz Pills before I feit the cough shaking; its hold upon me became looser and looser every dose I took, and the first, or it may be the second Sunday after I had begun taking them, my friends were remarking to me the great and happy change in my cough, as during the meeting I had scarcely coughed any, while previous to taking them I used to be the great disturber of the meetings by my com-

"Thirdly, they healed the spitting of blood, and changed completely the nature of the expectoration. This was pre-viously so had that the doctors agreed from this that my lungs were diseased; and the last advice I got from the doctor was, 'You must take great care of yourself, for your lungs are affected.' Now, whether my lungs are affected or not, I sto not pretend to judge, but this I say, that by the use of Parr's Life Pills these two bad symptoms are re-"Fourthly, they (Parr's Pills) have restored my voice to its natural tone and strength. This all my friends were remarking who heard me speak in the meeting the other day, and who previously had noticed the weakness of my voice.

"Fifthly, by the use of Parr's Pilis my natural color is restored. Before taking them my eyes were languid and dull, my color was low and deathlike, so much so that a lady told me last week that when she saw me about three months told me last week that when she saw me about three months ago she really had little or no hopes of my recovery; whereas now my color is healthy, my eyes bright, and the same lady says I am now beginning to get flesh on my face, the cheeks of which were greatly sunk.

"My dear Mr. Noble, I am afraid you will be tired reading this long letter. Other particulars I might meetion, but will finish by expressing my heartieft thanks to the Proprietors of Parr's Life Pills, as to them under God I owe the greatest blessing but one—bodily health, the one blessing, which no medicine can bring, I trust you are continually enjoying—health to the sout, to be found only in the light of His agousteance whose loving kindness is better light of His countenance whose loving kindness is better than life. I remain most affectionately yours,

A FFECTIONS OF THE LIVER.—
Every invalid should read and reflect, it they desire restoration to health.—I venture to affirm, says an eminat writer, that the grand source of health and disease is conected with the natural or disordered function of the liver and that every chronic or ingering illness arises from some select there. Chronic Hepathis the most frequent form of the diseas in this country, is slow in its progressive stages. The organ of attack will be for years suffering under its undermining influence, and yet no read disease will indicate to the patient the alarming state under which he is laboring; any transiest ledisposition he imputes to a different cause, never suspecting that the liver being affected is the latent source of these disturbed sensations; thus mish d, it is not in his of these disturbed sensations; thus mist d, it is not in his power to take the necessary precautions to guard against this insidious enemy to his repose. The symptoms of this disease are often slight and left for a considerable time, such as fulness after meals, accompanied by oppression, a feeling of vacuity at the pit of the stomach, the mind becomes irritable, memory defective, incapacity for mental exertion prevails, the appetite becomes variable, tongue turred, mouth clammy, taste vitiated slight noise causes a start slight distributed with frightful drams, occasionally an tart, sleep disturbed with frightful dreams, occasionally an ob use pain in the right side, extending to the top of the shoulder, cramp or spasms is often experienced, and nerv-ous twitching of the muscles and aching pain of the limb, nervous or sick headache is generally caused by it. It of ten appears in the form of cough, ash hara, &c. as diseased state of the liver, either by sympathy or pressure induces a derangement of the functions of the lungs and occasions these disorders. By changing the morbid state of the liver. the irritation of the lungs immediately gives way. The liver is indeed connection, primarily or secondarily, as cause or effect, with various diseases of the head as well as other parts of the system. From these views, then, there can be no doubt that the disorders of the liver are of the first imperiance, and every effort used to remedy them should be conducted on rational principles, and by timely and efficient attention and the use of the most proper medicines, many very serious conse-quences may be prevented, which too often are entailed on the constitution by procrastination.

As a remedy peculiarly adapted to the cure of liver affections, Dr. Starkweather's Hepatic Elixir has proved to be the most potent and efficacions, and every day's experience confirms more positively this assertion. It is candidly beeved that no preparation has ever been before the that has met with such unexampled approbation from dis-tinguished sources, distinguished judges, and grateful paents as this medicine, and a greater amount of sufferi has been mitigated and more cures permanently effected by it than any other medicine extant.

So confident is the proprietor of its curative properties in every case, that when the medicine is used according to his directions and the patient is not satisfied or convinced, after using one bottle, that it has produced a beneficial effiagents are authorised to refund the money paid for it on rein of the empty bottle.
